There's nothing like fall in the Catskills, and Roscoe Beer Company's third annual Oktoberfest on September 30 is just the place to enjoy it, with traditional German fare, seasonal brews, and pumpkin painting for the kids.

TRI-STATE

CITIES

Dine al fresco at The Amsterdam in Hudson Valley.

Going Dutch

Savor the last warm days of the season by dining al fresco at The Amsterdam, a charming new restaurant set in a 19th-century Rhinebeck Dutch townhouse. "Autumn is my favorite time of year to be in the Hudson Valley," says executive chef Sara Lukasiewicz, a one-time David Chang apprentice. lovetheamsterdam.com

ROOM REQUEST

Hudson, New York's development as a tourist destination continues with The Wick, part of Marriott's luxury boutique portfolio. Located two hours outside Manhattan, the buzzy region offers plenty to do, from dining to vintage shopping to yoga. "Hudson has become a home away from home for those in the know, and is gaining momentum as a sought-after destination with its indie spirit and vibrant social scene," said Julius Robinson, Vice President and Global Brand Lead, Marriott Tribute Portfolio. The hotel, taking its name from the former tenants, a candle and soap factory, boasts a rooftop with views of the Hudson Valley. thewickhotel.com

OUTDOOR ART

The Glass House, a National Trust Historic Site located in New Canaan, Connecticut, is a stunner by itself, but the property also regularly features art that compliments Philip Johnson's modernist architecture. Last year, they invited Yayoi Kusama to adorn the house with her red dots and metallic spheres, and this year, Robert Indiana's rust-colored steel structures entitled "ONE through ZERO" descend on the south lawn, echoing the Glass House's angular frame. The Veuve Cliquot Secret Garden at Ocean House

Check out two summer-themed Rhode Island pop-ups that will stay up through the fall. First, there's Watch Hill Inn, a seasonal property open through the end of October that just opened a custom Lilly Pulitzer suite decked out in preppy nautical décor. Then there's the Veuve Cliquot Secret Garden at Ocean House, an outdoor lounge serving champagne cocktails right through Thanksgiving. watchhillinn.com; oceanhouseri.com
